

One Year Reprieve for Buck House

Although the Board of Appeals did not announce any decision Tuesday evening, it appears quite certain that the ancient Benjamin Buck House (c 1672) on Woburn Street still has another year of existence.

The third Board of Appeals hearing, held Tuesday night, found the Board asking William Fraser Butt, who is purchasing the property, if he would agree to put up $4000 bond that he would either rebuild the old house, or tear it down, within one year. Butt was agreeable.

The hearing was necessitated because of a surveying error back in 1912 which gave the property 8,000 square feet more than it actually had. The entire proceedings took only ten minutes.

Albert B. Hollis of Topsfield has been elected President of the Wilmington Commercial Bank & Trust Company by its Board of Directors.

Mr. Hollis has been senior vice-president of the bank, and joined the firm after serving as executive vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company of Waltham. Prior to that, he was associated with the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Banking Department as a senior bank examiner.

A graduate of Medford High School, he attended Northeastern University School of Engineering and Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration.

Mr. Hollis is a member of the board of trustees of the Friends of the Children's Unit, Inc., Metropolitan State Hospital, Waltham.

ARCHITECT'S SKETCH PROPOSED NEW LIBRARY

AN ARTIST'S RENDITION OF THE NEW PUBLIC LIBRARY: proposed by the Board of Trustees. The building is to be of modified colonial design, brick exterior, and will be serviced by a circular drive, which passes behind the building where there will be parking for about 40 cars. Another seven tenths of an acre is available for either or both parking or building expansion.

The ground level will contain reading areas and book stacks for adults and young adults. Charging desk, reference collections, work-rooms, office space and boiler room will also be on this level. The second level will have a children's library, an historical room, staff facilities and a multi-purpose room which will seat 75 for educational-cultural meetings. Provisions for both internal and external expansion are incorporated in the design.

New School

$2,122,000 COST

The Finance Committee, last night heard John Callan, Chairman of the Permanent Building Committee propose that the sum of $2,122,000 be used to construct a new elementary school on Shaw-sheen Avenue. The money would be used, Callan said, to construct a twenty eight room school with a number of 'special areas' for the education of mentally retarded and emotionally retarded children.

The proposal for constructing the new school will come up in the Town Meeting of November 20th in Article 3.

The Finance Committee was told by Callan that the cost of the school had already been cleared by the State School Building Assistance Commission. 750 to 800 children would be enrolled in the new school.

No other member of the Permanent Building Committee appeared with Mr. Callan, nor did any member of the School Committee. All questions were answered by Callan, who is the chairman, and the Superintendent of Schools, Harold Shea.

Shea told the Finance Committee that he was 'disappointed in the costs' but waged a strong appeal for the school. It was unique, he said, in its facilities for handicapped children. It will provide kindergarten facilities, library facilities, and most of all flexibility.

Joseph F. Courtney of the Finance Committee estimated that the figures presented showed a cost of 120% more than the costs

Vocational School Officials Present Clear Program

Members of the School Committee of the proposed Shawsheen Valley Regional Vocational/Technical School made a good appearance, Monday evening, in a hearing held in the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium of the High School. Present to represent the school were Chairman Richard Keane and member Frank McLean of Wilmington, Secretary - Treasurer Wallace Heigh of Burlington, and Benjamin Wolk, who is Superintendent - Director of the proposed school.

The school will cost $4,225,000 to erect, and will be located at the corner of Cooke Street and Alexander Road in Billerica, not far from Wilmington by either Hopkins Street or Aldrich Road.

Only a sparse crowd was present to hear the proponents.

Among those present was Leonard Quann, of the firm Korsland, LeNormand and Quann, architects for the proposed school. Mr. Quann had little to do, as practically no questions were directed to him.

Benjamin Wolk did most of the talking, but the talk was opened by Chairman Keane.

Wolk told the group that the school would try to provide Elective Education for all classes of students, those who he had termed the neglected students who take General Courses in high school, for the lack of incentive. 'We will help this kind of student in particular'.

AN ALTERNATIVE

Several years ago the voters of Wilmington voted for a regional vocational-technical high school. The town is going to be asked to vote $3,925,000 additional funds for this school at the next town meeting.

Not too far in the future the town is also going to be asked to either add to the present high school or build a new one.

Instead of becoming deeply involved in the regional-technical school, couldn't the town begin now to incorporate vocational-technical education in the new plan?

While separate schools for vocational-technical training at the high school level have a long history in Massachusetts there is much to be said in favor of what is called the 'comprehensive' high school, where a variety of subjects is available to all students. The boy or girl preparing for a job as an electronic technician may need the same math as the college bound student. A student interested in architecture needs a college preparatory course as well as a good drafting class. In general the same basic education is still needed by most of the students.

An important argument against the separate vocation-technical school is the premature decision regarding goals for adult life.

Few students in their junior high and early high school years are prepared to make the almost irrevocable choices this kind of track system demands and in fact should not be asked to.

Many educators believe that flexibility should be maintained at the high school level as over-specialized technical training suffers from a high degree of obsolescence.

There is only a small percentage of difference in government subsidy in favor of the separate school and this margin may shrink appreciably when the standards the state sets for curriculum and the necessary duplication of facilities are considered.

There is no better way for students with different capabilities to learn an appreciation of each other and the ways to work together, as they will need to do in the adult world, than to have opportunities to work together in the same high school. These opportunities are best provided when vocational - technical education is a well integrated part of the general curriculum.

THE COST OF THE LIBRARY

There are those who believe that the proposed cost of the new Public Library (about $500,000) is too much.

The Town Crier is not to be numbered among that group. It will be remembered that the Permanent Building Committee originally came in with a cost in excess of $800,000, for a new library. Much money has already been spent in plans which were rejected by the voters.

More Servicemen's Addresses

The Town Crier this week adds 22 names to the names of Wilmington Servicemen, for the annual Christmas list. One other name is a correction.

Of the names printed last week and this week, at least three will be home before Christmas, and with subsequent changes in address Raymond Mahoney, and Christian Stuart Nelson, both at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, and Bill Stickney, in Spokane Washington. Mr. Stickney is engaged in teaching Air Force officers the art of survival in the wilderness. He will be out of the Air Force by mid December, if present plans mature.

There are still a dozen of more Wilmington servicemen whose names have not appeared in this list, for the want of a correct address:

Among those are:

Ken Berkeley; Robert Blackburn; Joseph Castaldo; William Cawthron; Donald Derrico; Eddie De Graffenreid; Walter C Godfrey; William Horsman; Joseph Kalakiewicz; Eugene Mackay; Frank Nigro and Donald Smallidge.

Selectmen's Meeting

A bewildered Walter Bahla of Marcia Road appeared before the Board of Selectmen, Monday night, trying to find out what had happened to him the week previously, in the Selectmen's meeting. Mr Bahla had applied for a license to operate a Billiards Parlor, and in the previous meeting no Selectman had either moved to approve or disapprove the application. It had then been dropped by the chairman, because there was no motion.

Bahla asked questions about the permit, and why it had been denied. Selectman George Boylen said that he had no personal objection, and moved that the permit be granted. Mrs. Drew then voiced an objection and no one seconded Boylen's motion.

Chairman Miceli told Bahla that he could make another application and there was some discussion as to whether or not the previous advertisement, notifying the public of the hearing, would be valid for another hearing. It was decided that advertising was again necessary, so the hearing was scheduled for two weeks later.

Residents of the areas adjacent to the proposed rezoning of land in North Wilmington, between Middlesex Avenue and Concord Street were present to voice objections.

Mrs. Doris Reitel of Mystic Avenue, Robert Mullarkey of Middlesex Avenue, and Mrs. Norman Pederson of Federal Street appeared with complaints that dirt and gravel was being removed from the building site, and that trees were being cut on the Lorenzo Property to form a new road, which appeared to be an extension of Mystic Avenue. Mrs. Reitel was much concerned, and told the Selectmen that her six acres is abutting property to the land in question.

Mrs. Reitel told the Selectmen that she had kept her acreage in fact, and that if the proposed rezoning did not go through, she feared that she would be faced with the problem of having land covered with fallen trees.

Mrs. Pederson had maps of the area before the developer had started, and also some of the present site, and indicated that she felt he had filled land, and then gone to the Board of Appeals for a variance, and further that he had built two buildings less than the required distance apart, and had then gone to the Board of Appeals for a variance. She claimed that several other variances had been granted, after the fact had been accomplished.

Mrs. Reitel told the Selectmen that Article 16 is not correctly worded in the Town Warrant. Her land was being advertised, she said as land of Sylvester Carter, who had owned it some 50 years ago. Mrs. Pederson said that if the proposed rezoning were to go through as advertised all of their homes would then be zoned industrial, in addition to the site of Wilmington Development.

The Selectmen told the group that the article had been put into the warrant as it had been submitted, and that they had no control over it, since it was up to the proponent.

The town Manager told the group that he would be meeting with the developer, and he was sure that it could all be worked out.

The members of the new Voting Machine Committee appeared, led by Roland Wood. Other members were Bob Jennings, Larry Alibrandi and Stanley Webber. Miceli pointed out that he wanted them all to meet and Mr Wood ascertained that they are now an operating committee, and they went into the outer offices and did some temporary organizing. Mr Black will appoint his representative in place of Mr Melzar this week. It was also established that they were to investigate other towns and advise the Board as to the results of their survey. They were given use of the Town facilities including the TM's Secretary.

The TM made a report on Clark St., stating that the shrubbery on the corner of Clark and Middlesex was on private property, not on the town way and that they had no permission to enter onto private property.

He pointed out that the progress on the Benevento Gravel Pit had been the appointment set up for Tuesday afternoon between the Town Engineer and Atty Ernest Nigro to discuss limitations of the gravel pit operations.

The proposed sale of abutting lots to landowners was discussed. The approval had been granted for the sale of lots on Cypress St and Allston Avenue, and denied for Hurwitz on Broad St, pending further investigations.

Robert Gamlin of Reading Ave had applied for purchase of lots on Cedar Avenue abutting in the back. After much discussion, his application was denied, since they were willing to sell at the assessed figure of $1000 for each lot, but Niles and Boylen wished to restrict it for building purposes.

This was two parcels of 50' front by 100' in depth, which made 10000 sq ft in a 10000 ft zone.

Mr Miceli wanted to grant it without restrictions, since he was afraid that it would be put to auction and then there would be two houses there, instead of one. Atty Roland Wood pointed out the fact that Mr Gamlin did not want to build at present, but he did not feel that his client would accept it with the restrictions on it. It was voted to sell Ralph DeLisle a parcel on Belmont Avenue for $1800 with the building restriction for a dwelling. Mr Nichols of Burlington Avenue appeared wishing to buy a small lot adjacent to his property. This was granted at $200 with the restrictions.

Chairman Danny Gillis of the Planning Board was present with the proposed new Official Map, wiping out paper streets. He finally made it clear to the Selectmen that they were not erasing the streets, just arranging things so that these streets will have to be built on betterments, or by the developer to subdivision specifications.

The VFW extended an invitation to the Board to participate in the Veterans Day Parade with the High School Band; They will meet at the Legion Hall at 10 am on Nov 11.

There was a communication from the Fire Department Training Program from Middlesex County extending an invitation to the Town to participate in special training and equipment. This would cost $10 per 100 people. Mrs. Drew felt this was expensive, but the consensus of opinion seemed to be that the training was important, as well as the availability of the equipment in the event of emergencies.

Father Berube wrote a note extending his thanks to the Board.

Chairman Miceli reported that the meeting of the Ipswich Water Shed Commission had shown that Lynnfield was building a reservoir and that there was $40000 available for reservoir study. He pointed out that it was important for someone to attend the meetings from the Town, since the surrounding towns were expressing no interest.

Niles remarked that the former chairman, Miceli and himself had had to do some fast work at the legislature to prevent the whole of Wilmington becoming a reservoir last year. Miceli verified this with 'Miss one of those meetings, Baby and you've had it. You'll find no town.' However, he stated that he felt a little bit more comfortable when he found that Herb Nickerson of Marie Drive was on the committee.

Niles said he might be from Wilmington, but he was the head of the DPW in Gloucester now!

Walter Coleman appeared for the Welfare Department, relative to the new program for Food Stamps. The TM pointed out that this was a pilot program and that it was a reverse compliment in a way, that Wilmington had so many people on Welfare that it warranted to be a test town. The program was described as minimum families being able to purchase stamps so that they could purchase half again as much food with their money. There seemed to be some flaws in the mechanics of administration, which the TM and Mr Coleman will attempt to iron out through Rep Cain and Senator McKenzie.

North Reading has voted to join in the electric light conference over the rates and a meeting is scheduled for Nov 15 at 8:30.

An agreement of understanding was presented by the Town Manager from the County Commissioners to extend the Burlington Avenue widening beyond Boutwell St. Inquiries were made to plan costs and the disposal of the Burlington Ave Bridge, none of which had been presented, so the Board voted not to sign same.

There will be court action on a house trailer and a sign violation. It was decided that the Town Counsel should be allowed to take additional expense out of his account, for any necessary assistance, since he was very busy with the Library.

The TM asked for a transfer of $1500 to the Fire Department for sick leave, of which the balance was $96.39 at present. This was sent to the Finance Committee.

Mr Miceli quickly and briefly because of time reported on his trip to Washington, saying that for two days the meetings ran from 8:30 to 5 pm. Many questions were answered. Found there were funds for study of air pollution and for the Health Commissioner to go to school. He brought back a new catalog of federal assistance in areas. He pointed out that many of the Towns had been using federal assistance on secondary roads for years. Boylen stated that he thought the Town Manager should go to the meeting next year.

New Business

Niles asked that the TM request the Police Chief for traffic control signs at the junction of Wildwood and Woburn Sts. Miceli said that the traffic was so bad the people had requested a police woman Niles suggested signs and crosswalks. TM reported he had taken care of this already.

There was discussion of drainage in the Forest St area, and the TM stated that they could only make a study this year that all the money was gone.

Boylen said that there was a traffic officer at Lowell and Woburn Sts on Sunday, and that they would like to see one in the Square. Niles and Miceli asked for a written statement from the Police Chief, since they had understood that officers could not be placed in the square or on Lowell St at Woburn or West Sts, because the County wouldn't let them. The TM said that he didn't understand it this way. The Police Chief will be asked to send a memo with a copy to the Town Counsel and action is planned next week.

Niles wants a statement, as does Boylen of the accounts in the Welfare fund and when the Federal and State Aid is received from Mr Peters in his report next week.

Mr Black pointed out the white signs for street and traffic in the town were rusty and looked terrible and some had not been replaced since the snow plows had knocked them down. Specifically, he mentioned the stop sign on the corner of Clark and Main Streets.

Miceli said that he would like to see students scheduled in Town for jobs for the summer. Some towns were doing this now, but Niles said that he should like to see this handled by a special committee, who had time to contact the different businesses in addition to the work done by the Guidance Department at the school. This will be discussed next week.

A communication from the Vocational School was read stating that the operating budget for 1968 would be in the vicinity of $40,000.

DEATHS

LENA BABINE DIED SUNDAY EVENING

Miss Helena L. Babine, of Laurel Avenue, Wilmington, died at her home suddenly on November 5th.

The daughter of the late Lawrence and Rose Ann (Surrette) Babine of Wilmington, she was a member of a well known Wilmington family, and for some years past had been employed as a clerk at the Ames News Store, in Wilmington Center.

64 years old, she was educated in the Wilmington Schools, and was a member of the St. Thomas B.V.M. Sodality.

Miss Babine is survived by a sister-in-law, Mrs. M. Hermaline Babine of Parker Street, two nephews, David and Stephen Babine, both of Wilmington, and her niece Ellen Babine, also of Wilmington. She is also survived by many cousins.

The funeral is to be held today, at 9:15 am from the W. S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, 374 Main Street, and will be followed by a Solemn High Mass of Requiem at St. Thomas Church at 10 am. Burial will take place in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

CORA E. FLINT WAS 95 YEARS OLD

Cora E. Flint, a resident of 119 Church Street for the last eight years, passed away in Lowell on November sixth after a lengthy illness. She had been a resident of Malden and Medford for many years prior to living here.

Born in Lawrence 95 years ago, Mrs. Flint was the mother of Mrs. Bernice Goldworthy. She is also survived by two grandsons, Donald F. of Framingham and Philip R. of Tewksbury, as well as three great-grandchildren.

She was a former member of the Spanish American War Veterans Auxiliary.

Funeral services will be held at the Nichols Funeral Home today at 2 PM with the Rev. H. Allen Tadgell of the Wilmington Congregational Church officiating. Burial is to be in the family lot in the Wildwood Cemetery.

EMMA WALSH CARNEY SERVICES IN WORCESTER

Mrs. Emma P. (Walsh) Carney of Hanover Street, Wilmington, died suddenly last Friday, at the age of 89.

Born in Worcester, the widow of the late Dr. Patrick Carney, she had lived in that city the greater part of her life, and for the past nine years had alternated between Worcester and Wilmington for her home.

Surviving Mrs. Carney is her daughter, Mrs. Elijay (Barbara C.) Morin of Hanover Street, two sons Joseph F. Carney of Leominster, Mass., and Robert E. Carney of Kettering, Ohio, and five grandchildren. Also surviving is her sister, Mrs. Mary E. Walsh, of Worcester.

The funeral was held from the Athy Funeral Home, in Worcester on Nov. 6th., with a Solemn High Mass of Requiem in the Church of the Blessed Sacrament at 10 am. Burial was in the family lot in St. Johns Cemetery, Worcester.

ALFRED BRABANT DIED IN WOBURN

Alfred H. Brabant, Sr. husband of Anna (Benullo) Brabant of 13 Princeton Road, Burlington died at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn last Thursday, after a brief illness.

51 years old, he was a native of Wilmington and was educated in the Wilmington schools. He had lived in Woburn for many years before taking up his residence in Burlington four years ago. At the time of his death he was the owner and operator of Ann's Donut Shop in Winchester.

Beside his wife Mr. Brabant is survived by a son, Alfred H. Brabant Jr. of Burlington, his mother and father, Elizabeth and Aristide Brabant of North Wilmington, two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Willard of South Tewksbury and Mrs. Mabel Lee of Florida, and five brothers: Aristide Jr. and Robert, both of Wilmington, Edward of South Tewksbury, Bernard of Palmer Mass., and Edward Boyd of California.

The funeral was held from the W. S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, 374 Main Street on November 6th at 8:15 am followed by a High Mass of Requiem at St. Thomas Church at 9 am celebrated by Father Edmund Parker. Burial followed in St. Joseph's Cemetery in East Chelmsford, with Father Francis Mackin offering the committal prayers.

Pall bearers were: Domenic Adario, Richard Brabant, Paul Brabant, Mike Benullo, Louis Haas and Wayne Gaulzettl.

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208, Wilmington, or call 657-7141, or after five, 658-4865. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

Hello there, folks! Thanks for the response to the Mexican Fiesta at the Congo Church this week. Gloria Hehn called on Monday and told me what a roaring success it was. That wasn't hard to guess by the looks of the traffic around there all day.

We hear that Gus Blaisdell of 23 Swain Road is confined to the New England Hospital in Stoneham with a case of pneumonia. Cards to him there you people!

Barbie Lindmark, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lindmark of Randolph Road is really traveling with the Student Council. Barbie is a student--sophomore--at the U of Maine, and she attended a conference at MIT this weekend as a member of the Student Council. That's wonderful, Barb.

A communique from the Air Force states that they will be holding interviewing session at 1 pm for 8 hours on Tuesday, November 14 at the Freedom House 14 Crawford St in Roxbury for people interested in federal jobs. The group will explain the advantages of Air Force civilian employment and have available a listing of current vacancies. This is part of the Air Force's plan to carry out the provisions of Equal Employment Opportunity. Heading this team is Mr. William R. Barnett of Chelmsford, Chief of Placement and Employees Relations.

Square Dancing Club now forming at the Glen Road School every Wednesday, commencing this week the 15th. It will be called the Wilmington Square Dance Club and will be $1.75 per couple. Couples will be graduated in May. For further information, call Dora Ardolino at 658-2477.

The WSCS of the Wilmington Methodist Church will be having their annual Sale on November 18 from 10 to 7. Among the tables, you'll find plants, food, candy, pillows, handcrafts, doll clothes, and movies for the kids. The Tea Room will be open at 10 all day and the Sale will finish with a Roast Beef Dinner at 6 pm, $2 admission for all. Dinner only by reservations made with Frannie Gamlin whose phone is 658-3259.

The best costume at the DAV Halloween costume party last week, was that worn by Mrs. Joseph Sullivan of 15 Mystic Avenue, Tewksbury.

Twenty couples took part in the fun at the DAV headquarters at 60 Grove Ave.

Mrs. Bernard Nelson of 68 Lawrence Street is a patient at Choate Memorial Hospital, where she underwent emergency surgery Tuesday evening.

St. Thomas of Villanova will be holding a Grand Whist Party on Monday Evening, Nov. 13 at the Villanova Hall, on Middlesex Ave at 8 pm.

Father Mackin, Gn. Chrmn will be assisted by Co-Chairman Elizabeth Kelley of Shawshen Ave and her very dedicated committee. In addition to the many turkeys which will be on hand, there will be very excellent selection of prizes. All are welcome. (You should make this one if our own Elizabeth is involved. How I love that gal! Hope I have her energy at half her age. She's some remarkable person!)

Hey Folks! Don't forget the parade on Saturday, Nov. 11. It'll start from the Veterans Hall on Main St at 10 am. Then to the cemetery for the exercises. And on the way back, stop at Ricky's Doghouse for the grand opening. Hear tell that you get a lot of hot dog there at a pretty good rate. Stop in and see him at the site on Main St where Allick's Drive-In used to be. Looks as though he'll be having a good business, if the traffic there is any indication.

Wendy Evans was among the 4H members that were presented 4H Key Club awards this week by the Cities Service Oil Company. She was also one of the winners of a County award in Achievement Beef and Leadership (3 awards) and John, her brother, won one in beef.

These awards were bestowed on County Achievement Night, held by the Middlesex County Extension Service in Concord on Friday Nov. 3 at the Extension Schoolhouse.

The Reading Chapter of NARCE will be holding their monthly meeting on Friday, Nov. 10 at 2 pm in the Knights of Columbus Hall on Sanborn Street in Reading. After the business meeting, Field Vice President Carlton J. Chace will talk on the legislative and other problems confronting the organization. There will be social hour after the talk.

Medic Alert sent us some literature this week. This is a non-profit, charitable, tax-exempt organization dedicated to educating individuals to wear on their person identification of any medical problems that should be known in an emergency. An additional goal is to urge physicians and all other medical personnel to advise per-

Impala Custom Coupe

From Impala, world's most popular car

The silent ride of quality for '68

Now there are more good reasons than ever why people should prefer Impala. Like all regular Chevrolets, it's even further ahead for '68!

A more hushed ride

Among other things, we refined and improved everything about the ride to make it surprisingly smooth and silent. Just try it and see. You'll find that our engineers used electronic computers to pinpoint places where noises might develop, and installed a special network of rubber cushions to keep squeaks and rattles from disturbing your comfort.

We doubt that you've ever driven a car that moves so noiselessly.

The look you like best

People have always preferred Impala's looks. So for 1968 we made it even more beautiful. We gave the grille a more massive and masculine look. We gave the hood sweeping new lines and tucked the wipers neatly out of sight. We designed the taillights right into the rear bumper for a look you're sure to like.

We owe you the best

We figure we owe people more than other car makers do. Because it was people who put us in first place in the first place, and who keep us there year after year. We appreciate it.

Be smart! Be sure! Buy now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

All Chevrolets are priced for greater value! The lowest priced 1968 Chevrolets are (models not shown): Corvair 500 Sport Coupe $2,220.00; Chevy II Nova Coupe $2,199.00; Camaro Sport Coupe $2,565.00; Chevelle 300 Coupe $2,318.00; Chevrolet Biscayne 2-Door Sedan $2,558.00; Corvette Convertible $4,320.00. sons of the importance of wearing such identification at all times.

There are 200,000 Americans now wearing emblems and 2,000 join monthly. They wear either bracelets or necklace medallions with the internationally recognized insignias. The American Medical Assoc estimates that one member in every American family suffers from some 'hidden or special medical problem'. In the event of shock, delirium, unconsciousness or coma, the doctor may call the Medic Alert number and get a case history on the patient.

Chronic illnesses are not the only problems. Allergies, contact lenses, etc are important.

A serial number is assigned to each member. Medic Alert discs carry the number and a telephone number in addition to the flash warning of the medical problem. The telephone number is that of the Central Answering File in the Foundation's Turlock, Cal headquarters where medical records of members are maintained. This is included in one-time membership fee. This information is cross filed under name and serial number and is available to physicians, staffs in hospital emergency rooms, and authorized personnel on 24-hour a day, collect call basis. (We have three out of ten of the clan wearing these tags for stings rheum fever, and surgical rare cases!) Have applications and folders at the Depot or write for complete information to MEDIC ALERT, Turlock, California 95380

Tom Manuel of 257 Shawsheen Ave is in the Junior Class at Union College at Barbourville Kentucky this fall, where Milt Townsend is the Director. Manuel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Manuel is a grad of WHS and is serving as secretary of the Circle K Club and is VP of the Junior Class. He also belongs to the Methodist Student Movement. Union is a liberal arts institution and has an enrollment of 950 students. There are 41 students registered this fall from Massachusetts. (I wonder if our own Rev Dick Harding now of Lexington has anything to do with this. That's the boy, Dick!)

Speaking of Presidents, did you know that Bub Clark is the President of the Frosh Class at Thompson's Academy, and an honor roll student as well. That's great, Bub! Keep up the good work!

Reserve Nov 29th from 7:00 on. The Walker School Mothers' Club will be holding their Bargain Bazaar at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Anyone who went last year knows what bargains they really have! Don't miss it.

There will also be an open house at the Walker School on Thursday, Nov 16th from 7 to 9. The Mother's Club will be serving the coffee downstairs. Drop by and chat. More details on the Bazaar later, says June Bicknell.

There's an urgent alarm for a teacher for the 8th grade boys at St Dorothy's by November 13. It can be either male or female and if they don't find someone, the class will have to be dispersed! If you can help out, please call Noel Fugere, the principal of the Jr High School at 658-4904, 658-4059 or 658-2968, or the CCD office on Monday, Wednesday evenings or Sat mornings - 658-9713. The class meets on Monday evenings at 7 to 8 o'clock in the basement of St. Dorothy's. The loss of a teacher that has been giving his time for three years will grieve all, but Uncle Sam is now demanding his time in the US Army. So, if he's assisting Uncle Sam then someone should be available to assist him. Come on, folks!

To the Members of the Golden Age Club, GB wants me to tell you that she gave us the wrong date for the Nominations of the Officers. This will be held on Thursday, November 9. And I am grateful to you there, GB. I surely wouldn't look forward to another 'holocaust' like that of last year. Thanks!

Jimmie Shine, now AB Jas M. Shine AF 11622397, Flt 355, 3333 BMTS, Amarillo, Texas 79111, writes us a lovely note this week with kind words of praise and encouragement for this gal and the TC in general. Be sure that Jimmie makes your Christmas list folks.

Leo O'Connell has completed his first solo Flight on Nov 1, at the Lawrence Airport. He is a student at Bryant-McIntosh Aviation Ground School Trng Cntr, 175 Hverhill St, Lawrence. After Solo Okie lost his shirt to his classmates--the usual initiation procedure, and he received his student pilot certificate from Mr Joseph W Benkert, Director of Aviation at the school. Happy flying, Leo! (And is his grandmere proud of him. She told us all about his flights at the Diner the other day. Was your Mother the first passenger, Leo?)

John Joseph Zengilowski, son of Mr and Mrs Joseph C Zengilowski of Cunningham St is enlisted in the Navy 120 Day Delay Program. This time, prior to active duty counts toward completion of his military obligation and affords four months seniority prior to entering recruit training. Anyone desiring further info about this and other opportunities should drop in to see Chief Mahoney and Chief Crittenden or Chief Howe at the Lowell Post Office, Room 211, Lowell or call 452-0511 for an appointment. This looks like a great opportunity for investigation, there, Seniors!

The gremlins goofed again this week. In Ed Rideout's note for Graphic Reproductions, the telephone number got reversed. And thanks to the lady at 657-7452 for her wonderful cooperation and thoughtfulness! The number should read 657-7542 and all of you kind people please give Ed a call on the right number! Sorry bout that, Ed!

For contents for those packages that you folks wish to send to the boys in Vietnam, write to Blackie at the Greater Boston Red Cross, 17 Gloucester St in Boston 02115, and he'll send you a copy of the booklet free. This list was compiled by Red Cross officials on the scene in Vietnam and here are the gifts most desired: Canned fruits, packaged spaghetti dinners, chewing gum, lifesavers, canned peanuts, pkged soups, presweetened drinks. In clothing: wool socks, lightweight raincoats or two-piece suits, sweat shirts (Navy blue or dark green) ballpoint pens, stationery with self seal envelopes; paperback books, hobby magazines, newspapers, and small games and puzzles, playing cards; small inexpensive transistor radios (wrap batteries separately) wallets, sunglasses with plastic frames, inexpensive rugged watches, good quality jack or hunting knives, nail clippers mirrors foot powder, insect repellent, and stainless steel razor blades, wash and dry packets, sewing kits, small paint brushes, steel wool, Q tips (to clean rifles, also) small plastic containers and sandwich bags (Baggies) family photos and voice tapes. And most of all--letters from home!

DON'T send fragile cakes or cookies, fudge or candy bars; they will melt, crumble or spoil. Fruit cake is in good supply there.

COMBAT troops carry everything they own, so don't send large items they'll have to discard DON'T send perfumed after-shave lotion. Seriously, they can betray a man's presence to the enemy. The PX sells cameras, binoculars, tape recorders and so forth, and GIs can do better price-wise: Individuals or groups wishing to send gifts to entire military units can consider: Tape recorder, portable sturdy recording tapes; one-quarter-inch magnetic, 150 ft lengths; 8mm movie projector, 35mm slide projector and hand viewer; camera still picture, self-processing; film for these cameras; jigsaw puzzles for adults; playing cards, regular and pinocle; record player, portable, AC 60 cycle; records 45 rpm, current, popular; pocket chess sets, cribbage, checkers, harmonicas, banjos, guitars, etc; games such as darts, monopoly, scrabble; handi craft sets such as 'paint by number'. Such gifts should be mailed to: American Red Cross Warehouse, Cabin Branch Rd., Landover, Maryland 20785. These gifts will be used on hospital ships and in American Red Cross recreational centers where large numbers of servicemen can enjoy them.

MAILING DATES: Surface mail Nov 11 (that's this week!) and airmail, Dec 11. Packages less than five pounds and not more than 60 inches in length and girth combined, can be sent by surface mail to San Francisco and then air-lifted on a space-available basis direct to Vietnam, at no additional cost. The deadline for this type of mailing is Dec 1.

Let's go, Group!! Let the boys know that you read me, and never mind whether you have anyone over there or not. I expect that list of boys to get a card from each and everyone of you, and a 'tuck-in' gift, or something so that they all know we care. If anyone sends a unit gift to the red cross, please let me know, so that I can write about it. Now, get with it, there, and I don't want to hear any of those 'I forgot's'. (There's an additional list today to add to last weeks.) Happy writing!

Youth Hockey

The Wilmington Youth Hockey Bantams had a tiger by the tail, Sunday night, when they tangled with the Billerica Bantams.

Wilmington's high scoring first line came through with 4 goals to take Billerica 5 to 4. Jim Irwin led the scoring for the second straight week with 1 goal and 2 assists. Dave Irwin contributed two goals, also coming up with the winner. Peter Tighe tapped in a Jim Irwin rebound, and Jeff Dindo belted one in while on his knees.

The next game is to be at the Billerica Forum Sunday at 6 pm with the Wilmington Bantams taking on Tewksbury. Spectators are invited. There is no charge.

The Wilmington Youth Hockey Clinic is to be held at the Frost Arena in Lawrence on Friday from 6:15 to 7:14 pm. All boys 14 and under are welcome. The cost is $1.00 per session.

To get to the Frost Arena: Take Rte 93 to Rte 495, to Rte 28 North Exit. Arena is 200 yards from the exit, over railroad bridge.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL (Fr. Front Pg.)

The students in the vocational school will not study any foreign languages. Other than that almost all courses will be offered, with emphasis on vocational trades. The school will be co-educational.

Based on a four year course, the school will offer classes in Electrical work, Electronics, Automotive, Auto Body, Product and Experimental Machining, Metal Fabrication, Carpentry, Chemical Laboratory Technician, Drafting and Design, Technical Illustrating and Commercial Art, Merchandising and Secretarial Sciences, and Culinary Arts.

Broadly speaking the pupils are to be divided into three levels, to be called 'tracks', and depending on abilities.

Track 1 will be for students with a high level of ability, who in addition to shop work would have an academic program which would prepare them for jobs in industry as technicians, or for higher education in schools, technical institutes and junior colleges.

Track 2 would be for pupils of average ability, who would be given shop experience, and academic training to qualify them for jobs in industry.

Track 3 would be for those students who have a limited academic ability, but would have an interest and desire to acquire a skill. These students would be given the necessary academic studies which were within their capabilities, and would have an opportunity in shop to progress and develop skills according to their capacity.

Wolk told the audience that he would be speaking to pupils in Grades 7 and 8, in the Wilmington schools, preparatory to their entering Grade 9, in his school.

Grade 9 pupils, he said, would have to sort and elect their courses, and be tested for their abilities. It would not be fair for these pupils to have to choose their classes immediately, but instead there would be exploratory courses, so that at the end of Grade 9 the pupils could determine the course of studies they wished to pursue.

Grade 10 pupils would be taking up specialized shop work, one week of shop work and one week of academic work, a schedule that would continue through Grade 11.

In Grade 12 the pupils would alternate, with one week in various shops in the area, shops that have already shown an interest in acquiring these pupils. Among the places mentioned by Mr Wolk was Sweetheart Plastics, and the Greer Division of Joy Manufacturing Co., both in Wilmington.

Grade 12 pupils, he said, would actually work and show their prospective employers of what they were capable of doing.

'We are going to function as a regular high school, with an athletic plant comparable to any high school around, and a building that will be capable of functioning otherwise as well, for weekend and Saturday evening affairs.'

Wolk hazarded, in answer to a question, that 50% of the graduates would find employment in the shop work of their specialty. He said that while at the Greer plant he had found one of his former pupils there, functioning as a shop foreman, and he has found former students in other shops he has canvassed in the area.

When asked by Charles Mather of the Wilmington Finance Committee if there would be any courses in Data Processing, Wolk told the audience that at Syracuse (N. Y.) there were courses in Math Technology which were quite helpful, and that possibly they would find a method to do the work as it is being done at Syracuse.

Chairman Keane said that the Data Processing was one of a group of 'Exceptional Studies' and that the school probably would not pursue it, it being limited in this regard.

Keane had talked at the Greer plant of Data Processing, and thought it would be best to train technicians capable of repairing the machines. He said he would not be surprised to find that the school would be offering a course of this type.

The fate of the proposed school rests with the five towns in the School District - Wilmington, Burlington, Bedford, Billerica and Tewksbury. Tewksbury will be having a discussion of the school in a Town Meeting next week. Bedford will be having a town meeting on November 20th., the same night as Wilmington. The Selectmen of Billerica and Burlington have not yet made a decision about calling a Town Meeting.

Haigh said that about two years ago a questionnaire was sent to all parents in the area, with good response.

He considered it extremely significant that every one of this type of schools opened to date had been promptly swamped with applicants and students. In each instance, he said, the Directors had to screen applicants so that each of the towns participating had a fair percentage.

Greater Lawrence has a school for 320, and received over 600 applications. It was a revelation, Haigh said.

McLean cited studies which had shown the aims of Wilmington High School students. 49%, he said, wanted to attend four year colleges, and 44% wanted to attend trade or technical schools. The rest were either undecided, or wanted to attend Business Colleges.

A list of choices had been given to Wilmington High school students who might attend a school of this type, and the Number One choice was to study Automobile Mechanics, with Auto Body Number Two.

Wolk also told the audience that boys who go through the Technical School do very well, when they join the U.S. Navy. They get their technical ratings much quicker than does the average recruit.

He plans to spend time talking with the youngsters in the seventh and eighth grades, in the five towns, and also with Guidance personnel and administrators.

The school, he said, would be operating at 50% of capacity during the first two years. Pupils who will not do the work of them will not be allowed to participate.

Pupil Costs

In a discussion of pupil costs Chairman Keane quoted costs on an average, statewide, as being $750 per pupil per year, in the technical schools. He believed these costs to be higher than the costs in academic schools.

There were various costs cited for pupils in the Wilmington schools, one of them being $505.23. But Keane warned that 'If anyone tells you, then find out what the figures mean.'

He was convinced that the vocational schools were more expensive than the academic schools, and then pointed out that a graduate could immediately move into a better paying job than would a General Course graduate of a academic schools.

To this Haigh added that a General Course graduate of academic schools cost about $500 a year, and graduate to jobs paying about $60 or $70 a week.

'Spend $250 more a year, and you will probably end up with a student who can go out and get a job more in line with our affluent society.'

Wilmington's share of the cost for education, it was said, for the first few years, would be $87,825 per year.

Under the Federal George Barden Act, the Federal government would pay 50% of the salaries of 75% of the teachers for the first four years.

Haigh told the audience that the State, in House Bill 140, was proposing a 50% reimbursement of costs to the towns participating. He added that there were four or five such bills in the Massachusetts Legislature at this time, one of them being House Bill 506, proposed by Rep. Fred F. Cain of Wilmington.

Industrial Pool

McLean told the audience that another factor in the thinking behind this type of school was that it supplied a pool of trained technical personnel for industry, and thus made its region more attractive to incoming industry.

Volk said that a school of this type, in Williamsport, Pennsylvania, was the cause of a large industry locating in that city.

BENJAMIN WOLK SLATED TO APPEAR NOV. 20TH

Benjamin Wolk, Superintendent-Director of the proposed Shawheen Valley Regional Vocational School, is slated to appear at the Town Meeting on Nov. 20th, to answer any questions that may come from the floor.

A graduate of Boston Trade High School, and of the Lowell Industrial School of MIT, he got his Bachelor of Science in Vocational Training at the State College in Fitchburg, and was awarded a Masters Degree in Administration of Secondary Schools at Boston University.

He was with the 78th Infantry Division in World War II, and after the close of hostilities helped to set up the 7th Army Technical Trade School in Mannheim, Germany.

A member of the Welder and Metal Trades Local 501, in Boston, he lives in Marblehead.

He was formerly Trade Instructor in the Boston Trade High School and later Guidance Director.

He started with the proposed Shawheen Valley Technical School in August 1966, with a study of the occupational needs, and then a study to develop the Educational Specifications for the proposed school.

Constance Blomerth Weds

At a candlelight service at 7:30 pm on September 29, 1967 at the Wilmington Methodist Church, Constance M. Blomerth became the bride of William George Maginnis. Constance is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Carl Blomerth Jr of 11 Glendale Circle. The groom is the son of Sgt and Mrs William A Maginnis of 17 Nassau St in Pawtucket, RI.

Candles along the pews and at the windows of the sanctuary cast their glowing light on the white snowball chrysanthemums which decorated the church.

The Reverend Willis P Miller officiated at the ceremony and organist, Miss Linda Kyle and Mr

William Stickney as solist enhanced the ceremony with a lovely rendition of 'Oh Perfect Love' and 'The Lord's Prayer'.

The maid of honor was sister of the bride, Bette Blomerth, and bridesmaids were Miss Deborah Lester of Lowell St, a friend of the bride, and Linda Blomerth of Malden, the sister in law of the bride.

The best man was Ted Sanders of Groveland, a cousin of the bride groom, Donn Blomerth of Malden a brother of the bride, and John Penny of Wilmington, a friend of the bridegroom.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Carl V Blomerth Jr.

She was gowned in colonial style with roses, and a lace bodice trimmed with sequins and pearls and a skirt of seven tiers of lace. A flowered tier drop of lace, crystals and pearls crowned a full length veil of silk. She carried a white Bible and topiary snowball bouquet of snow-white chrysanthemums and ivy, which hung from the wrist.

The bride's attendants were dressed in identical gowns of gold brocade bodices with silk crepe full length empire style skirts with long trains. Identical headpieces of gold silk crepe bows and matching silk veils were their head-dresses, with the exception of the Maid of Honor who wore a full length veil. They carried fall flowers--gold and bronze chrysanthemums, while the maid of honor carried a snowball bouquet of gold and white chrysanthemums. All hung from the wrist.

The Guest Book was presented by Mrs Ted Sanders of Groveland a cousin of the bridegroom. The music was by Ray Archambault of Nashua, NH.

The mother of the bride chose a moss green velvet dress trimmed with white lace and matching accessories--flowers were white roses with white mums. The mother of the groom chose aqua lace with matching accessories. Her flowers were white gardenias.

For her wedding trip to the Mohawk Trail, Upper New York, and Vermont, the bride chose a going away ensemble of white tailored waffle weave knit suit with navy blue skirt and navy blue accessories.

The couple will be at home at 23 Hudson Ave in Lawrence after October 9.

The bride was educated at Wilmington High School and the Famous Artist School of Westport Connecticut. She is presently employed at Photon Inc., in Wilmington. The bridegroom was educated at Tolman High School in Pawtucket, RI and served six years in the US Navy. He is a head inspector at Photon also.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES AT THE OLD AGE HOUSING: Was held last week, under the auspices of St. Thomas Church. The pastor, Fr. Edmund Croke, is shown talking after the Mass, and in the background are Frs James Corbett, C.M. and Fr. Francis McCormack, C.M., who assisted.

Some of those in front of Fr. Croke are Mrs Beatrice Simpson, Mr and Mrs David Surette, Richard Fink and Mrs Leola Donahue.

THE MORRIS FAMILY IS NOW AT HOME: In Wilmington, in a new home on West Street built by Fraser Butt. The home is near that of Larry Foley.

Ovation for Paul J Christopher

Paul J Christopher, outstanding young man from Wakefield who inspired the Wakefield Rally of a week ago, in support of US Soldiers in Vietnam, was given a ten minute ovation Sunday in Villanova Hall, by members of the CYO of St. Thomas and their friends.

The 19 year old youth was guest speaker at the Awards Sunday breakfast. It was his first speaking engagement since he staged the massive rally on October 9th in support of the American fighting men.

Christopher told his audience that a football player should not 'desert the team just because he does not like the quarterback'

If we don't stop Communism now in Southeast Asia we will find it costs us many thousands more lives, in a bigger war five years from now, he said.

He said that the draft card burners and the anti-Vietnam War demonstrators had given 'tremendous moral support' to Ho Chi Minh' and led him to believe that this country is hopelessly divided.

He told the young people in the St Thomas CYO that they were the future draft card holders, and that they should be proud to serve their country.

An important source of drugs is animal tissue. Although ancient prescriptions mention such exotic items as 'the flesh of a viper', 'asses' hoofs', and the like, effective use of materials derived from the glands and organs of animals has been a development only in the past 50 years.

Animal tissues are literally crammed with hormones and other chemical compounds.

This was first realized in 1905 when thyroxin, the active principal of the thyroid gland, was extracted and used successfully as a metabolic stimulant.

Since then there has been constant research in this area, with several outstanding results.

Research is an unending thing... and along with it is the development of many new drugs.

Sunday is the big day in Pop Warner land as the fragrance of revenge tickles the nostrils of the Wilmington Chargers. A few years back, a powerful Winchester club gave Wilmington an unmerciful, completely unnecessary 59-0 shellacking. This sort of 'sportsmanship' never goes unrewarded and it looks as if Winchester and its mini-witted coach will get their comeuppance from the strong second place chargers. According to G.M. Rico Catalano, the boys are sky-high.

Last Sunday the little men of Connie Barry ran into a stubborn Reading squad, but came up on top, 20-6. Mark Jepson ran for one (20 yards) and passed for another T.D. (40 yards to Paul Ritchie), and Ray Noel bucked five yards for the third score.

Sunday's will be the final league game and it looks like a second place finish for this 'building year' team, unless Randolph can pull a major upset over unbeaten Swampscott.

UNRESERVED

The Broncos look like the team to beat in the Men's Basketball League this year. When you combine all-stars like Al McDonald and Dave Newhouse, 3rd and 4th in the loop in scoring in '66, with a giant like 6'7" rookie Jon Fairfield, you've got quite a start. Add veterans Bob Taylor, Bob Turner, Eddie Casey, Ralph Newhouse, and newcomer John Robbins and the front court looks rugged.

Dana Atkinson, Fred Ryan, and Jim Murray provide more than enough support for 'coach' Dave Newhouse at the guard position. The Broncos take on the Chargers in the league opener Wednesday, December 6 at the High School.

The way the AFL's Eastern Division is going, nobody is going to win it. All five teams will finish in a last place tie.

Gino Cappelletti jostles with W. K. Hicks and is dismissed in disgrace.

Bobby Orr and Brian Conacher go at it and the attending press plaudits overshadow the game's outcome.

Wait for the cry 'Break up the Uclans', when the UCLA basketball team buries a few early season foes. They've outlawed the dunk to stop Alcindor, but even without it, Long Lew and his mates could give some ABA clubs trouble. Their attack is positively devastating.

Varsity standouts Dick Gillis and Jerry Land again this week dropped down to the jayvee ranks and led a 42-12 drubbing of their North Reading counterparts. Gillis scored twice on runs of 11 and 3 yards and Land bolted away on a 50 yard T.D. jaunt. Bob Quandt, Rick Smallidge and Dave Thomas also tallied in the romp. Red Kennedy, Chuck Casey, Carl Cotter and Gary Hebsch performed solidly on defense, containing N.R. completely until the game was out of reach.

Did you recall that Jim Nance and Mike Garrett, the AFL's top rushers were 19th and 20th draft choices in the collegiate draft?

Good Luck, John Huarte. Would that Babe Parilli were going in your stead.

Which announcing combo is more horrendous - Bob Starr and Gil Santos or Ken Coleman and Mel Parnell?

Wasn't it so nice to see Bill Russell acting sociably the other night on 'Cowboy in Africa'. His acting talent rivals only that of ex-Celt Lucas-Boy, but the change in presence from his usual sardonic insolence was indeed refreshing.

Get those applications in, you junior league cagers.

That outstanding W H S Cross Country team loses only one harrier to graduation this year (Dave Knight). Among the more talented returnees are Charlie Arsenault, Frank Harrington, Chris Shea and frosh Ernie Taylor, who won the post-season meet with Austin Prep in record time.

FROM THE SOAP BOX

What is it with this town? The high school football squad is enjoying a tremendous season, resting in first place in the Merrimack Valley Conference. The crowds, however, are hardly 'crowds.' Could it be that fans don't appreciate a defense-minded team? Must they have a titillating long yardage threat like a Bowen, a Rooney, a Field, a McDonald or a Billings to drag them away from the TV or the back yard?

I've knocked some coaching tactics, but I can't knock this club. It's a spirited, gutsy bunch on their way to the league title. If hustle were the main criterion for an all scholastic rating, this team would place eleven on offense and as many on defense. The support these boys don't get is a disgrace. Their fellow high school students stay away in droves and it's rather a shame, sports fans.

Hathaway Pits Wellfield

Jury Awards Corey $45,700 Damages

Robert F. Corey, 15 Clark Rd Lowell was awarded $47,500 in damages by a jury in the Middlesex Superior Court, in Lowell, on November first, as payment for land taken from him by the Town of Wilmington. The trial lasted three days, and was heard before Justice Francis F. Good.

Corey was the owner of the former Hathaway Gravel Pit, in North Wilmington and North Reading. The pit totals nearly 50 acres, in the two towns, and the Town of Wilmington took that part of it which was in North Wilmington by eminent domain on July 10, 1964. The taking cut Corey off from any legal access to his property in North Reading.

The history of the gravel pit dates back for many years. It was purchased by Steve Hathaway a gravel operator in the mid 1950s, at the time that Interstate Highway 93 was being constructed, and millions of yards of fill for the new highway were taken from the pit. In the course of operations three large holes were dug which became waterfilled, and were the scene of subsequent drownings, one in Wilmington and one in North Reading.

No taxes were paid on the pits after the Interstate Highway was completed, and there were several recommendations to the town that the land be taken for non-payment of taxes, either as an area for recreation, because of the swimming, or as land for the Water Department. The Wilmington Board of Health repeatedly tested the water in an effort to find that there was pollution, and thus have a legal reason to bar swimmers, but the tests, in every case showed that the water was clean and healthful, and fit for human consumption.

Finally, when Gerald Bouchard became Town Manager, the Town began to consider the taking of the property, and it was just about this time that Mr Corey purchased it from its former owner. It was said at that time that Mr Corey paid a sum equal only to the taxes due for the property.

The Wilmington Water Department was at the time considering the use of the land for a well field, and the department had contracted with the engineering firm of Whitman & Howard to have the water tested.

While the test was being made, in December of 1963, Mr Corey asked for a variance before the Board of Appeals to have a commercial recreation area in the 16.7 acres in Wilmington. During that hearing, Arnold Blake, 90 Middlesex Avenue, a Water Commissioner, told the Board of Appeals that the land was being tested for future water supplies. The tests had been completed, he said, and the Town was just waiting for confirmation of the tests by the State Department of Health. He requested that no decision be made by the Board of Appeals, pending word from the State Department of Public Health.

In February 1964 the Board of Appeals granted a variance to Mr Corey, allowing him to operate a Recreation Area in the Wilmington portion of the old gravel pit.

The Board of Appeals added ten conditions to the Variance, governing the operation of the Recreation Area.

The Trial

In the course of the trial, which began a week ago Monday morning, Mr Corey testified that he had considerably improved the property with bull dozer and draglines, after which he opened the area for Commercial Recreational Purposes on June 27, 1964. He conducted the business there until July 11th, at which time the Town took the land by eminent domain.

Corey said he was charging $1.00 for parking of cars for the swimmers and others who were using the property, and that there was good revenue from this. The best day was July 5th, when 285 cars were parked on his property.

Appraiser for Mr Corey was Francis J Sullivan of Boston. Mr Sullivan testified that in his opinion the just compensation for the property should be $165,000. This compensation took into account the fact that Corey's North Reading property is now inaccessible.

Bernard F Magane of Andover an appraiser, testified for the Town. His estimate of the damages, including the severance from North Reading, was $24,100.

Other testimony was given by Edmund Sargent, Superintendent of the Wilmington Water Department, and Arthur Harding, Town Engineer. Mr Sargent's records were introduced as evidence, as to the purity of the water, and the Town Engineer furnished aerial photographs, and transparent overlay maps which he had prepared. Anthony Krzeminski, Principal Assessor of Wilmington, testified that the town had assessed the land in question for $15,200.

The jury, the counsel for both sides, viewed the premises, during a trip to Wilmington. Their verdict for $47,500 damages was given on Wednesday afternoon.

Presidents' Day Tea for Women's Club

The Wilmington Women's Club will meet on Nov 16 at noon in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church with the Presidents of the Clubs in the Eighth District, as guests.

The guests of honor will be Mrs Clarence F Clark, Pres of MSFWC Mrs John G Hayward, corresponding Secretary, and Mrs Henry D Grebenstein, 8th District Director. There will be a receiving line at one o'clock to meet the guests and visiting presidents.

The business meeting, planned for 1:15 will be followed by 'Fashions and Fabrics', a program presented by Mr H William DeLong, who is a diplomat, foreign service world traveler. He will be displaying fabrics and fashions that are used in the modern world.

Wildcats Reign in the Rain 15-5

Wilmington High School's first place football topped the previously unbeaten North Reading team 15-5 in a non-league tilt Saturday.

The weather that afternoon slowly turned from fair to miserable while Wilmington offense was doing the opposite.

The game started on an exciting note, with North Reading's half-back, Swadel, running back the kickoff 78 yards, to the WHS 12. Four plays later quarterback Pebler booted a 27 yard field goal, giving North Reading a lead which stood up until the last six minutes of the contest.

Things really looked grim when McKenzie picked off a Bill Walls pass a minute later at the 45 and ran it to the Wildcat 13. But Wilmington's rock-ribbed defense dug in and held the visitors, forcing an unsuccessful field goal try.

That was the story of the day, the defense bailing out the offense with one brilliant stand after another.

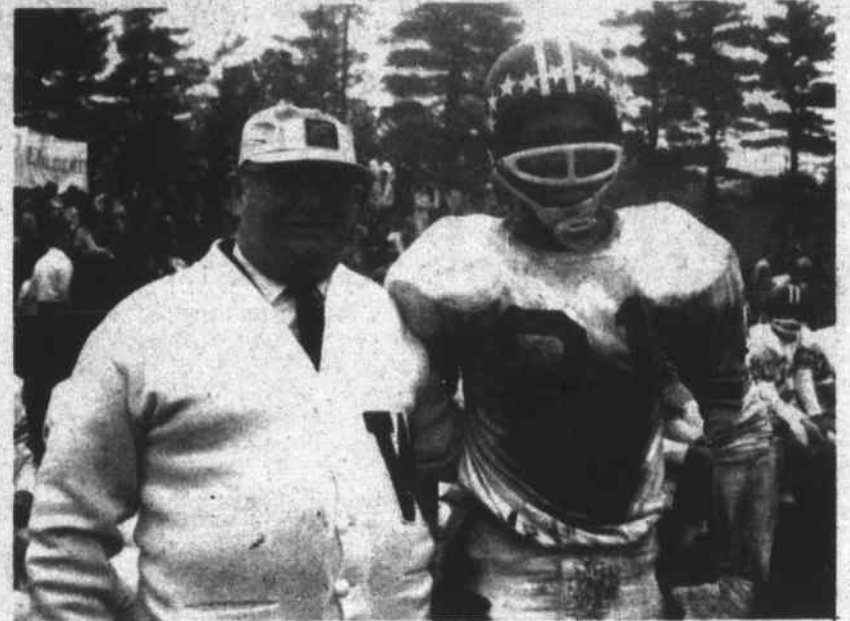

North Reading got the ball back four plays later, following a 14 yard put which kicker Jim Brewster downed himself on his own thirty. The Green and Gold drove to the two, only to be repulsed again with the big defensive play being a diving deflection of a Pebler pass, in the end zone, by Dan O'Connell. Once again Pebler missed a field goal try, this one from the 15.

Midway through the second period North Reading got its second score as safetyman O'Connell elected to let a Pebler punt roll, and it was downed at the Wildcat 2. Hank Devlin's try for some running room lost a yard, and then Bill Walls was trapped for a safety trying to pass out of the end zone.

Mike Esposito's 30 yard punt return to the North Reading 30 seemingly got the offense going. Phillips and Devlin carried to the 13, but Swadel intercepted a Walls pass in the end zone to abort the drive.

The Wildcat defense made North Reading cough it up again, only to have that Swadel fella step in front of another Walls pitch at the 29.

Jim Brewster got the hot potato right back, intercepting at the

BY THEIR STARS SHALL YE KNOW THEM: Wilmington's football players are now being awarded stars, to wear on their helmets, for performing outstanding plays in competition.

One of the most star laden helmets is that of Jimmy Moore, shown here with his friend Dr. Gerald Fagan. Jimmy has a total of nine stars on his helmet.

42, but time ran out on the Cats as Dan O'Connell was hauled down at the end of a 38 yard aerial on the North Reading 20.

WHS showed a total offense of only 41 yards for the half. North Reading's attack wasn't much better, but it did have a 5 point lead and a defense that looked strong enough to make it stand up.

Jackie Gillis snatched a Swadel fumble in mid air in the third quarter, giving his mates great field position at the N.R. 36. The ensuing drive was sparked by a Walls to O'Connell pass for sixteen yards and summarily killed by a 15 yard holding penalty.

North Reading took over on downs; - failed to move the ball; - and punted to O'Connell, who toted it back to his own 48. Walls and Devlin took turns carrying on a drive to the 26, but George Phillips fumbled away a handoff on a reverse, as the fourth period started.

Then, Lo and Behold. The heavens opened, spewing forth the rains, and a few local guardian angels.

The N.R. Center, Frost, pulled a Jon Morris and bowled his snap back to punter Pebler, who was beaten to the loose ball by scrappy Buddy Chamberlain, at the visitors 25.

On the third and six, Bill Walls made the key play of the day, running a keeper for 12 yards to the 9.

Devlin then carried for 4 more and then two plays later Walls hit O'Connell in the end zone for the deciding score, with only 5:19 left in the game. Billy hooked up with Dan again for two extra points off a fake kick play, and Wilmington led 8-5.

Wilmington's mighty defense squelched two more North Reading attempts to advance the slippery pig skin, following the last of which the Wildcats took over on downs at the N.R. 17.

Hank Devlin and Walls plunged for 3 apiece; Devlin hit one more and then skirted right end for ten yards and paydirt with only 45 seconds showing on the clock. Esposito kicked the extra, and the Wildcats had a hard earned 15-5 win.

The Town Crier is unhappy about the site, in that the town may have to pay dearly in the future because of the needs of High School expansion, but it supports the Board of Trustees in their proposal for a new library.

It would seem that the bone of contention lies, in some instances at least, with a room on the second story which will be used for meetings of various kinds, literary and cultural, and will be suitable for other purposes. The argument is that these meetings can be held in some school house, the Glen Road School for example.

This is a false economy. If the town is to build a library it should be a proper one. A meeting room for the purposes intended is right and proper. The day may come when expansion is needed, and that room may then be used for that purpose without having to indulge in further construction.

After much effort on the part of the citizens the town now has a firm of qualified Library Architects who have made the designs for this building. Those architects have the confidence of the Board of Library Trustees.

The Trustees should have the support of the people.

THE COST OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

There was a time in Wilmington when the Permanent Building Committee was committed to the idea that school buildings should be built as inexpensively as possible. That was about ten years ago, when the so-called Round Schools were evolved. Unfortunately the politicians of half a dozen years ago made a political plaything of the idea, and the tax payers of Wilmington have been paying ever since for allowing themselves to be led around by those politicians.

The Town Crier is not necessarily wedded to the idea of Round Schools as such. If someone can come up with schools of another shape, - long, tall, squat, underground, or what have you, and the price is less, the Town Crier will support that idea.

But no one has been able to do this, and it is time to re-examine again the concept that brought to Wilmington those round schools.

It is the classroom that counts, in any school. In those classrooms the teacher and the pupils meet, and there is an exchange of ideas, an exchange that is termed Education.

The walls outside those classrooms are immaterial, other than to protect those inside from the elements. They should be durable, they should be safe, they should be easy to maintain. But if a school building could be built with just classrooms, and no walls at all, (an impossible situation, of course) the cost of that building would decrease considerably.

In the construction of the round schools, the amount of the outside wall was cut to a minimum. That was an important savings.

The plans were owned by the town. There was no need for expensive designing and redesigning of class rooms, at the tax payers expense. That, too, was an important savings.

The round schools were designed to have twelve classrooms, and to be located in neighborhoods, so that the elementary school children could walk to school, and thus not have to be bussed. That too was an important savings.

But the politicians succeeded in misleading the people. A lot of those savings have been lost.

Today there are larger elementary schools, and the pupils in those schools are being bussed, from the east side to the west side, etc. etc.

Where the Woburn Street School is located, and now being enlarged, a twelve room school should have been built. Then another one could have been built a mile or two to the north, near Hathaway Acres. The town would have twenty four classrooms, at a cost of about a million dollars, and the children would have been within easy walking distance of their schools.

It is now proposed to build a twenty-eight room elementary school at the Shawsheen Avenue site, at a cost of $2,122,000

Suppose instead that the town were to build three schools, each of twelve rooms, and located a mile or two apart, and in that general area.

Assuming that the cost of construction has increased, those schools would today cost about $600,000 each. Three schools would cost about $1,800,000, and would provide thirty six, not twenty eight rooms.

And, neglecting entirely the cost of bussing, the town would still have a savings of over $300,000.

of the Woburn Street school, the most recently constructed.

Courtney found that the per pupil costs of construction amounted to $2625, which, he said, was 'a tremendous jump!

The estimated costs of operations for the school was $75,000 a year, a figure which alarmed the Finance Committee.

After much discussion, but with little answers, the Finance Committee was assured by Mr. Shea that the costs would run comparable to the costs of the Woburn Street School, and that an older school, the Walker School, would be 'phased out' by the new construction.

Callan told the Finance Committee that he had searched for ways to cut the costs, and that the School Department and the School Committee had told him that all features planned for the new school were necessary.
